

HURT MYSELF

I want to hurt myself to hurt you
If that's the only way I can get to you
I want to hurt myself to hurt you
Your pain is my only shelter
I got no dreams, no hopes to fight you with
No illusions, just memories
But memories are only shadows
And shadow can't touch you

Heaven, heaven knows
How much I want to hurt you
I can't hide, I can't hide
No silence, no refuge

I want to give all that I have
To be nail in the palm of your hand
I want to hold my life to ransom
Just to see if you care to answer
I want to spill blood in your hands
And spread on your skin like some disease
I want to set my lands on my fire
And with my flames ignite your sky

I want to scratch the world's wallpaper
Until it's all as white as chalk
I want to sleep upon the snow
Until I feel the flowers grow
I want to walk into the sea
Until I stop the wave
That rocks the moon

I want to hurt myself to hurt you
Your pain is my only shelter
Cause like a cancer future grows
And your pain is my only cure
I can to stop the wind in my wings
And lock myself inside your dream
Cause what's the use in being free
If my freedom leaves no scar on you
